Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 1 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 31 March 2000.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-5, drawn to a conferencing system that uses agents to provide participants with means to communicate, classified in class 709, subclass 202.
 - II. Claims 6-20, drawn to a specific facilitator agent that can learn a user's communication preferences to present a user with pertinent information, classified in class 706, subclass 45.
 - III. Claims 21-22, drawn to a specific social agent for learning how to represent individuals that participate in conferences, classified in class 706, subclass 10.
 - IV. Claims 23-29, drawn to a specific networking scheme for converting data passed between users in a computer conferencing system, and for synchronizing packets sent between the computer systems, classified in class 709, subclass 246 and 248.
 - V. Claims 30-37, drawn to a specific floor control strategy for a computer conferencing system, classified in class 345, subclass 755.
 - VI. Claims 38-52, drawn to a server system for managing network conferences, including forum control for participants, classified in class 709, subclass 205.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

- a. Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the specific features of the facilitator agent described in the subcombination are not necessary to successfully implement the invention of the combination. The subcombination has separate utility such as a conferencing system that does not include a social agent.
- b. Inventions I and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the specific features of the social agent described in the subcombination are not necessary to successfully implement the invention of the combination. The subcombination has separate utility such as a conferencing system that does not include a facilitator agent.
- c. Inventions IV, V, VI, and the group of I-III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention

IV has separate utility such as synchronizing computers in a network and translating data to ensure a coherent view; Invention V has separate utility such as controlling which of a group of conferencing participants may control the floor; invention VI has separate utility such as maintaining a record of conference proceedings to keep track of meeting membership and other meeting control strategies; and inventions I-III have a separate utility such as providing a learning system that allows a conferencing agent to present a user with relevant information. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

2. A telephone call was made to Christopher Daly on September 24, 2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Bradley Edelman whose telephone number is (703) 306-3041. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Friday from 8:30 AM to 5:00 PM.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Glen Burgess can be reached on (703) 305-4792. The fax phone numbers for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned are as follows:
